Amber, the Adopted; or, SCHEMING TO WIN.

By Mrs. Harriet Lewis, author of "The Rival Cousins," "A Life at Stake," etc., etc.

"DOUGIE HELEN—MY NAME MAY NOT BE FAMILIAR TO YOU. I AM BLANCHE LONGLEY.

CHAPTER VI. CAPTURED BY DOUGIE.

"The letter reached him on a small port, bearing a very odd letter, which Dougie Longley recognized him. He glanced at the signature with his smile, and said,

"That's a letter for M. V. B., isn't it?"

"Yes, it's a very odd letter, indeed. It's from the famous young lady, "Blanche Longley.""

"I must have it to read," Dougie exclaimed.

Dougie took the letter with some eagerness, and read it very carefully. He turned it over and examined it, and then looked at it again, with a strange smile on his face.

"This is a very odd letter, indeed," he said at last. "I have never seen anything like it before."

TO MY FRIENDS.

BY NEWSPRINT.

Yes, I have a little to announce. I have been married. The wedding took place last week, in the presence of a few friends.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr.

Smith, and the happy couple left for their honeymoon immediately afterwards.

The bride and groom are very much in love and are expected to have a long and happy life together.

THE WIDOW'S LOVE-MAKING

BY ROSEY GDOLUY SHAVER.

I CAME from the town last night, and was surprised to find that my old friend, Mr. Jones, was staying at my house. He was in a very sad state of mind, and I could see that he was distraught.

He told me that he had just received a letter from his wife, who had passed away a few days ago.

I offered to go with him to the funeral, but he declined.

He said that he would prefer to be alone, and that he had some thoughts to reflect on.

As I was leaving, I noticed a young lady standing at the door, and I introduced her to Mr. Jones.

She was very kind and made Mr. Jones feel better.

I left them to their own devices, and went home to read the news of the day.
